RESPONSE TO QUESTIONS
(Received through March 3, 2008)

- 1. Question: With regard to the Mid-Connecticut Project services, on page 1-2 of the RFQ, you indicate that “CRRA will be responsible for “live” loading the trucks/trailers/containers at the Mid-Connecticut facility. Vehicles, trailers, and/or containers shall be removed from the Mid-Connecticut Resource Recovery Facility four days per week (Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday) between 6:30 AM and 2:30 PM.” Yet, on page 4-2, the following statement is made: “The Contractor shall be responsible for providing sufficient empty trucks/trailers/containers at the Projects’ sites to provide for continuous loading (by the Project operator) of ash, 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. Loaded trucks/trucks/containers must be removed from the facility immediately after loading. Ash is to be picked up between the hours of 6:30AM to 2:30PM on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.” Please clarify when loading activities would be conducted on a daily and hourly basis.

Response: Trucks will not be loaded 24/7. Live loading of Contractor trucks/trailers/containers will be performed by the Project operator Monday through Friday, 6:30AM to 2:30PM. See Addendum No. 2, Response to Question 1, which added Wednesday to the days allowed for live loading of trucks/containers/trailers.

- 2. Question: With regard to the Mid-Connecticut Project services, provided a proposer demonstrated overall economic benefits, would CRRA consider loading ash more days per week? Would CRRA consider loading ash more hours per day?

Response: See Addendum No. 2, Response to Question 1.

- 3. Question: With regard to the Mid-Connecticut Project services, please discuss ash loading productivity during the workday. Are there times during the workday when the loading activity (or weighing) would be suspended for any reason, such as employee breaks? Would CRRA’s contractor at the plant be available at all times during the stipulated ash removal window to live-load trucks?

Response: Ash loading will be done during the workday from 6:30AM to 2:30PM, Monday through Friday. There will not be times during these hours when the loading activity (or weighing) will be suspended for employee breaks. CRRA’s project operator will be available at all times during this stipulated ash removal window to live load trucks.
